RENEW YOUR MEMBERSHIP FOR 1997

SEASONS GREETINGS

Looking back over this year, I would like to thank each and every one of you for the support and encouragement you have given me during my second year as President of this fine organization. Because of your efforts, we have accomplished so much this year.

Our annual genealogical seminar and book fair held November 2, 1996 was a tremendous success. Dorothy J. (Tincup) Mauldin, Cherokee researcher, provided us with timely research information; look in this issue for some hints to help you with your Indian research. Through the generosity of authors and publishers all over the country, we were able to place over 75 books (with a total value of over $1,600) in the Genealogy Collection of Shreve Memorial Library in Shreveport, Louisiana. Thanks to all of you for your hard work!

Our next annual genealogical seminar and book fair will be May 3rd 1997 with Desmond Walls Allen as our speaker. Start now making plans to attend! Also, watch for Desmond on the first installment of ANCESTORS, to be aired on PBS TV on January 11, 1997 at 3:30 p.m.

We have had many very good programs at our monthly meetings this past year and want to continue to provide the information you need to be a better genealogist. Volunteers to give programs and suggestions for programs are always needed; your ideas and assistance are always appreciated.

With the approaching year end, I would like to remind you that it's RENEWAL TIME! We are including in this issue a pink renewal form. Please take the time to complete the member information; we would very much like to include your queries, family histories, lineage charts, family group sheets, articles, and other information in an upcoming issue of THE JOURNAL. If you would like to extract information from old newspapers, courthouse records, etc., we welcome your help in that area, too.

We are in the process of updating our mailing list. As most of you know, the postal service will soon require the use of the nine-digit ZIP code. Please check your mailing label; if we don't have your correct address (including the nine-digit code), be sure to put it on your renewal form. Also, if you have missed any issues of THE JOURNAL, please drop us a card - we'll get them out to you.

Let me take this opportunity to introduce our incoming Board of Directors for 1997-1998: President, Laura Hair Duffy; First Vice-President, Elsie Ward Jones; Second Vice-President, Jimmie Jean Pate Bowman; Secretary, Linda J. Yoblonsky; Treasurer, Jane Leslie Newberry; Editor, Janine Johnson Dunlap; Historian, Rachael McIntyre Mangum; Trustees, Barbara DeBose Estess, Glenda Sue Carter Glenn, Frances Twilley Hawkins, and Barbara Flesher Rewis; and myself as Past President. We welcome your suggestions and participation.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY!

Miss Ima G* Bugg

* Genealogy

Miss Ima G* Bugg, our own unique, lighthearted research associate, has agreed to try to answer our questions and give us some research clues. If you are confused and in need of help, drop her a line. If she can't help you, maybe some of our readers can. Send your questions/comments to: Miss Ima G* Bugg, Friends of Genealogy, Inc., P. O. Box 17835, Shreveport, LA 71138-0508.

Dear Ima: Family legend has it that we are descended from an Indian Princess, daughter of a great chief. But, I am having a little trouble tracking down the details. What types of records are available to help me with my Indian research?

Dear Princess: So you have that legend in your family, too. Don't be disappointed if it doesn't prove out to be true, but it is fun to dream about. Meanwhile, check out the research aids provided on pages 156 through 162 of this issue of THE JOURNAL.

Dear Ima G: Over the past few years, I have seen family genealogies that trace ancestry to Adam and Eve. One publication referred to the "Hebrew Myth" and to Odin of the "Scandinavian Myth." Will you please explain what these terms mean?

Dear Seeking: You got me. Maybe some of you out there in "Reader-Land" can help us out with this one.

Dear Miss Bugg: Land records. Everybody tells me to look at the land records. What good will that do me?

Dear Miss Land: These records may tell you one or more of the following: name of wife, possibly her maiden name, names of sons-in-law, names of heirs, location of previous and next homes, description and location of the property along with the names of the adjoining landowners, economic circumstances (such as, they owned a great deal of land, or their land was sold to pay debts), and names of witnesses who might be relatives. Some records also contain transactions of personal property. Many land and deed records have been microfilmed and most have at least a buyer/seller (grantee/grantor) index. Although land records are sometimes slow to research, often you can locate information pertaining to birth, death, and marriage records. Land records are the oldest continuous set of records in our country, so don't overlook this valuable tool.

Thanks to St. Louis Gen. Soc. News "N" Notes, V26, #9.

Dear Ima G*: I get really excited when I find a query which seems to connect to my research, then to suffer disappointment when my letter comes back "Addressee Unknown, Return to Sender." People who do genealogy should never be allowed to move, right?

Dear Sender: Right on. But, we are a mobile society, and becoming more so, it seems. You might try writing a letter addressed to "Occupant" at the same address. In your letter, state why you are trying to locate the former occupant and how much you would appreciate his/her help. Give enough information to let him/her know you are a sincere researcher in honest pursuit of a relative. Be sure to include your SASE; you might also offer to take a collect call.

Dear Ima G. Bugg: Have you been reading the obituaries lately? You'd think most of these people were hatched from an egg in an unknown location, may or may not have married someone, and possibly had children, and maybe even grandchildren, nieces, nephews, etc. Didn't they ever hear of providing names, that is, full names, relationships, and places, not to mention a few other juicy details?

Dear Obit Reader: Yes, I understand your frustration. Since most obituaries are paid for by the family, some "family stuff" doesn't really seem all that important, seeing as how it costs more. However, we can make things a little easier for future genealogists by writing our own obituary and placing a copy with our will, a responsible person, or, if we've made advance arrangements, the funeral home. Having been in the situation of trying to write an obituary without having all the information I needed (and being upset, too), I believe that your survivors will bless you for this. A few things to include would be your maiden name, date and place of birth, names of parents (include your mother's maiden name) and siblings (including deceased siblings), where your parents came from, names of surviving relatives and where they live, and a summary of where you have lived and worked and your religious and organizational affiliations. Of course, a picture would be nice, too.

Dear Miss Bugg: I seem to be finding discrepancies in the various census records - I thought the census takers were usually school teachers on summer holiday and were given specific instructions as how to take each census. What gives?

Dear I Thought: Quit thinking. That's the worst thing you can do when it comes to reading the census records. Just go with the flow; you'll learn a lot more in the long run. Just to give you an idea, the following was written by a census taker in Buffalo in 1865:

OCUPSYSHUN - CENCUS TAKER: "I am a cencus takers for the city of Bufflow. Out city has groan very fast in resent years & now in 1865, it has become a hard & time consuming job to count all the peephill. There are not many that con do this werk, as it is necessarie to have an ejucashun, wich a lot of pursons still do not have. Anuther atributeart needed for this job is god spelling, for meny of the pephill to be counted can hardle speak inglish, let alon spel there names!"

Dear Friends,

Shreve Memorial Library is fortunate to have the support of the Friends of Genealogy along with its loyal and hard working members. The 1996 Annual Seminar and Book Fair was a tremendous success resulting in the collection of approximately seventy-five new books.

As the Genealogy Librarian, I sincerely thank each one of you for your time and effort. In addition, I would like to extend further thanks to those who contributed to the Book Fair in any way. The materials that you collected have been added to the Genealogy Collection and will provide valuable information to researchers for years to come.

Sincerely,

Brenda J. Williams

BARGAS, DeVARGAS

Seeking information on the BARGAS family; may have emigrated from Spain when LA was under the Spanish flag. The name could have been DeVARGAS; some settled in Orleans Parish under the name BARGAS. Others settled in north Iberville Parish, establishing the community of Bargasville, which no longer exists. Peter BARGAS, son of Joseph (or Edgar) BARGAS, was born about 1870 in Iberville Parish, LA. He married Marie LeMay about 1891, possibly in Natchitoches Parish, LA. He died about 1922 in Iberville Parish, LA.

DICE, McCLANAHAN

Looking for my Great-Grandfather, Frank (or Earl) DICE. He married his 2nd wife, Hattie Jane McCLANAHAN about 1900-01, and he died in the summer of 1903 in LA. He and his brother were "Drummers" (traveling sales men). He played the fiddle. Would like to hear from anyone with information on either of these surnames.

FLAGON AND TRENCHER

Those who can provide proof of direct descent from an ancestor who operated a tavern, inn, ordinary, or other type of hostelry in this country on or prior to July 4, 1776, may be eligible to join a hereditary society called Flagon and Trencher, a group that originated in 1962. The group's name refers to a flagon, or vessel with a handle, spout, and hinged lid that was used to serve liquors, and a trencher, a wooden plate or board that was used to cut food on. The establishments were initially called "ordinaries," but by the end of the 17th century, the term "tavern" was more commonly used in this country. "Inns, Taverns, and Ordinaries," Myra Vanderpool Gormley, C.G., "Colonial Homes" February 1995, by permission. The organization may be contacted through Mrs. William Alfred Smith, 850-A Thornhill Court, Lakewood, NJ 08701.

THE FORT JESUP INSTITUTE
Sabine Parish, Louisiana

As extracted/abstracted from a publication shared by F.O.G. member, Earline Ellzey Carr.

Fort Jesup was a frontier military post before the war between Mexico and the United States and was headquarters for Gen. Zachary Taylor. Here, also, was Lt. U.S. Grant.

The institute seems to have had its inception and conception in a design of Sabine Lodge No. 75, F. and A.M., to secure better facilities for the education of their children, and those of the surrounding parishes than used to exist. A charter was obtained and commodious buildings constructed. There were seven grades in the high school department, a Normal course for those who expected to teach, and seven courses in the College department. There were also a Hy-patian Society and a Columbian Society. Representatives of the lodge during the period 1891-94 were: J.W. TAYLOR, W.M.; T.J. FRANKLIN, S.W; C.W. COX, J.W.

TESTIMONIALS

Testimony as to the status of the Fort Jesup Masonic Institute, from competent and distinguished critics.

To the R.W. Grand Master, Grand Wardens and Members of the R.W. Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana:

GREETING: We, the representatives of Sabine Lodge, No. 75, F. and A.M., take pleasure in reporting to this Grand Body, briefly, an account of the Fort Jesup Masonic Institute, and the excellent progress it has made during the past year. Under the management of a well trained faculty, the institute, though only in its sixth year, bids fair to become one of the most prosperous and successful training schools of the State.

Our object has been to establish, upon a firm basis, a modern school, abreast of the times as regards methods of teaching, text-books, course of study, etc., so that it might commend itself to the favorable consideration of the public and the Masonic fraternity of Louisiana.

At the suggestion of Sabine Lodge, the Board of Directors of the institute generously offered a free scholarship to one orphan child of a deceased worthy Master Mason in each Masonic district. In the light of what we have done, and are still doing in this noble work, may we not hope to command the attention of the craft in giving this institution its patronage and support?

Fraternally yours,

J. W. TAYLOR, W.M.

T. J. FRANKLIN, S.W.

C. W. COX, J.W.

The State Historical Society of Missouri began indexing Missouri newspapers over 75 years ago. The ten card file indexes to the state's newspapers contain hundreds of thousands of entries that can lead a researcher to lengthy articles or short mentions on many topics in Missouri history. These indexes provide an important, but often overlooked, access to the Society's massive newspaper holdings.
